THE CHAUTAUQUA.

REV. ANNA K. SHAW AROUSES MUCH ENTHUSIASM.

ENGAGES IN JOINT DEBATE

The Programme To-Night and To-morrow—Preparing for Sam Jones.

The attendance upon yesterday's meeting of the Missouri Chautauqua was a disappointment to the management. There was only a fair attendance at the morning meeting and less than 100 persons attended the afternoon session.

After the morning prayer and song service, the Chautauqua Sunday school lessons were conducted by Rev. Frank Lenig. The exercises lasted two hours, and were highly enjoyed by the junior and senior classes.

At 11 o'clock Rev. Anna Shaw preached a most excellent sermon. Her text was: "Whereupon, O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision," from which she evolved the theme, "What It Is to Be a Christian."

A Gospel temperance meeting held at 3 o'clock was conducted by Miss Ellen D. Morris, state secretary of the Kansas W. C. T. U.

After a number of short addresses Rev. Anna Shaw spoke for an hour on "National Temperance." She said a mother's investment was her children, and she had as much right to demand laws for the protection of her investment from being ruined by the saloons as the liquor dealer had to demand that his business or investment in liquor be protected by law. Miss Shaw said in conclusion that the time had arrived when the women of America should demand of the lawmakers one of two things—either to blot out the laws legalizing the sale of liquor or untie the hands of women and give them an opportunity to free the land of its greatest curse.

At night Miss Shaw preached to a fair audience, her subject being "Strength of Character."

To-day's Meeting.

The temperature was cooled considerably to-day by the rain of the morning. The regular programme was gone through with but one exception. The lecture to have been given by Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman at 11 o'clock was substituted by one from Mrs. Anna Shaw, who spoke brilliantly and to the point on "Moral Influence vs. Political Power." The monologue presentation of "Unc' Edinburg's Drowndin'" by Prof. A. H. Merrill, is looked forward to with great pleasure by those who heard him Saturday evening. Thousands of circulars are being scattered broadcast over the state advertising the appearance of Rev. Sam Jones, who will draw unprecedented crowds. The programme this morning was as follows:

8:45 a. m.—Devotional exercises and Bible reading.

9:30 a. m.—Senior normal class. Lenig. Lesson 3. Old Testament history.

Junior Normal class. Mrs. Steele. 10:00 a. m.—Expression. Marion Lowell. Children's Normal class. Mrs. Steele.

11:00 a. m.—Lecture by Mrs. Anna Shaw. Topic, "Moral Influence Versus Political Power." The programme for this afternoon and evening was announced as follows:

2:30 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. Anna Shaw. Topic, "Woman's Suffrage." Dr. C. C. Woods, of Scarritt college, will reply to Mrs. Shaw and an intellectual treat is in store for all who hear them.

4:00 p. m.—Expression. Marion Lowell. S. S. Teacher's conference. Topic, Organization of the S. S.

5:00 p. m.—C. L. S. C. Round Table.

7:30 p. m.—Concert.

8:00 p. m.—A monologue presentation of "Unc' Edinburg's Drowndin'" or Old Virginia, by Prof. A. H. Merrill.

TO-MORROW'S PROGRAMME:

The programme as announced for to-morrow is as follows:

8:45 a. m.—Prayer service and Bible reading.

9:00 a. m.—Senior normal class. Lenig. Lesson 4. New Testament history. Junior normal class. Mrs. Steele. Expression. Marion Lowell. Children's normal class. Mrs. Steele.

11:00 a. m.—Chautauqua extension.

HORRIBLE!

THE LEADING HOTEL IN FT. SCOTT IN RUINS.

MANY PERSONS KILLED.

A Cyclone Strikes the Town and the Hotel Was Wrecked Completely.

Special to the DEMOCRAT.

FORT SCOTT, KAN., June 26.—

This city is in mourning to-day.

A cyclone struck the town and the leading hotel—the Tremont house—was wrecked, burying seventy-five persons in the ruins, this afternoon.

At this writing it is impossible to estimate the number of killed but it is believed to be large.

That many have been seriously injured and will die, is almost certain.

No such calamity ever before befell the city, and the entire people are in mourning.

Old Soldiers Swindled Out of Their Pensions by Swindlers.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 16.—A party of clever swindlers have been working the old soldiers of Lincoln county, thirty miles from here. They represented themselves as agents of the United States government and stated their business was to organize lodges of old soldiers. They organized a lodge in Lincoln county. The lodge turns out to be an immense swindle. They told the old soldiers the secretary of the treasury needed all the gold in hand to meet the stringent demands of the present times; that if they would assign their pensions, which are payable in gold,

Sheriff Porter has recovered from one of the prisoners in the jail a three-cornered file, a steel shank taken from a shoe, and two pieces of a watch spring, by means of which it was the intention to effect another jail delivery in the near future. There are still saws and other tools secured in the jail, but so far the officers have been unable to locate them.

they would receive greenbacks in return and the gold be forwarded to Washington. The swindlers cashed the checks with bright new greenbacks, which have since proved worthless. The green goods men have left for parts unknown.

POOR WHEAT PROSPECTS.

Hot Winds and Dry Ground is Damaging Northwestern Fields.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 26.—Crop reports from the Dakotas and Northern Minnesota are very discouraging. Hot and high winds have been blowing. The ground is parched and the ripening grain is wilting. In places farmers will hardly be able to harvest an acre. Expert wheat men say that the damage done already is from 25 to 50 per cent and the average harvest west of the Red river belt will hardly be 40 per cent of that of two years ago.

PATRONIZE home firms for what you buy.

An exchange says the retail ice dealers of Brooklyn are trying to freeze out the ice trust. Rather a cool proceeding for this season of the year.

THE St. Louis Chronicle is authority for the statement that there is up in the northwest a lively little gubernatorial boom for Senator Cochrane, the able editor of the St. Joseph Gazette.

GENERAL business the country over is feeling the injurious effects of the World's fair, while Europe is not sending anything like the number of visitors which America sent to the Paris exposition.

SECRETARY SMITH proposes to make a reduction of $20,000,000 in pension payments. There is a pretty general impression that this can be done without injustice to a single worthy pensioner.

THE spread of theosophy among the faculty of the celebrated Wilson Industrial school in New York threatens to break up the institution. The school has been a non-sectarian protestant institution and has not been closed, summer or winter, for forty years.

THEY have a great deal of buried treasure up at our neighboring town of Knob Noster, but it is in the shape of coal, fire clay, potter's clay and other valuable deposits which nature has supplied with lavish hand. There may be gold and silver treasure as well, but it is pretty certain that money invested in developing the coal and clay deposits will bring better returns than that invested in hunting for the millions left by the early explorers.

THE sad accident of yesterday whereby a most popular and promising young man lost his life should be a warning to the young men and boys of Sedalia. There is great danger, especially to poor swimmers, in bathing in Flat creek, and unless the warning is heeded there will be other accidents and grief and sorrow carried to other households. Only last Saturday a boat in which three boys were rowing was capsized and one of them had a narrow escape.

THE New York Evening Post says "there is encouragement in the report from Washington that the administration means to listen to no compromise in the matter of repealing the Sherman law." But does the Post understand that it is congress, and not the administration, which makes and repeals laws? It is not the province of an administration to bully congress, but to carry out the instructions which its masters, the people, give through their chosen representatives in the shape of laws. The ill luck that is attending imperialism in Europe is not encouraging to those who desire a dictatorship in this country.

A NATATORIUM at Forest park would be a profitable investment in every sense of the word. A pool where the young men and boys of Sedalia could enjoy a swim without danger would attract a large crowd every day during the summer and would save valuable lives, to say nothing of the pleasure that would be afforded the tired worker who toiled all day in the shops or the stores. Sedalia has probably not yet reached the point where free public baths can be maintained; but situated as Forest park is, so convenient to the water supply and at the terminus of an electric line, a natatorium could be established and maintained at a cost that would place it within the reach of all.

STAND TOGETHER.

There is not the slightest danger of a financial panic in this country.

A panic is a thing which does not come when it is looked for—when people are prepared for it as the people of this country have been prepared for weeks.

But while there is no danger of a panic, it is a solemn fact that we are in for a season of scarcity of money.

The European investor lost heavily by disasters in South America and Australia, and as his American loans and investments were his best assets he was forced to call them in.

This made a scarcity of money in the eastern cities, and as the eastern capitalist had invested his surplus in the west, he in turn had to call in his loans.

The banks found all they could do to take care of their regular customers and are in no condition to increase their loans to any considerable extent.

Many of the notes and mortgages given on property in the west will not be due for months, but when they are due many of them will have to be paid—not because they are not good, but because they are good.

Thus, unless the balance of trade is largely in favor of this country for the next twelve months, we may expect a scarcity of money and an era of what people call "hard times." Knowing these facts, sensible people should be prepared to meet the conditions.

Do not go in debt; pay bills promptly so as to enable your creditors to pay their indebtedness and thus make the best use of the money that is in circulation.

Make no investments away from your home, so that there may be no drain upon the funds with which the business of your own community is done.

Keep every dollar at home that it is possible to keep here; buy from your home merchant; employ home mechanics and laborers. In this way the evil effects of hard times can be discounted and the community where the people thus stand together in support of each other will be in the best position to take advantage of the era of prosperity that always follows upon the heels of hard times.

TRAIN ROBBERS AGAIN.

Saturday Night's Attempt to Hold One Up in Arkansas.

An attempt was made to hold up a Missouri Pacific train on what is known as the Wagoner route, at Illinois station, I. T., last Saturday night.

Just as the train was pulling out, going towards Van Buren, Ark., three men, heavily armed and masked, rode up to the station, yelling at the top of their voices, and shooting right and left. The last car of the train had just pulled out when the gang reached the platform. Finding that they were too late to carry out their intentions they ransacked the station office, but found only 45 cents, which they carried off.

Express Messenger Jackson, who was on the train, said he had $50 in the small local safe, but of course did not know how much the through safe contained. One of the party was recognized as one of the Starr boys.

$100.00 IN CASH PREMIUMS.

Don't forget to bake a loaf of bread; in so doing you help out a noble enterprise, the Charity hospital fund. Every dime helps to swell the Charity hospital fund.

If you have not a kindly feeling toward the No. 8 flour you can use any flour that you wish. However, none other than the No. 8 can compete for the prizes, and must be so stated on the day of delivery.

Every one that has a drop of the milk of human kindness coursing through their veins should not forget the hospital fund and send us a loaf of bread.

Yours very respectfully,
B. S. REMBAUGH.

WHICH IS BETTER?

To Forest Park, With the Theater, Or Association Park, With the Kite-Shaped Track?

There was considerable criticism of the local ministers to-day because of services having been held at all of the churches yesterday in opposition to the Chautauqua assembly meeting at Association park, where Miss Anna Shaw preached to a handful of people in the morning and lectured to an audience of forty-eight in the afternoon.

Investigation on the part of the DEMOCRAT to-day partially explains the situation. It appears that Revs. Jones and Marquis are not the only local ministers who objected to the Chautauqua being taken to Association park, where the race track is located.

So strongly were they opposed to the race course that the Ministers' alliance decided that in the event the meetings were held on Association park grounds that services would continue to be held at their respective churches on Sundays just the same as though the Chautauqua was not in existence, and such was the case yesterday.

The question is, which would have been the better—to have gone to Forest park, where a theater is located, or to Association park, where a kite-shaped track is located?

The greatest of remedies, McFarland's German System Tonic, The Great Vitalizer. Ask your druggist for it.

A Disastrous Washout.

The "Katy" train from the north was about 30 minutes late this morning owing to a washout on the "K" line north of Hannibal. A heavy rain fell at that point yesterday, lasting only about 40 minutes, but the water came in floods and did great damage to the track. The "Katy" tracks at Hannibal were covered with water but no damage was done.

Excursion Will Go To-morrow.

In conversion with Rev. J. S. Myers, this morning, he said that the Christian Sunday school excursion would go to Pertle Springs to-morrow, rain or shine. He further said that the hotel, tabernacle and all the buildings at the springs would be at the disposal of the excursionists. The train will leave the union depot at 8:30 a. m. promptly. A large number of tickets have already been sold and it is expected that it will take ten cars on the special train.

News of the Track.

Sam Fuller took third money in a trotting race at Rockford, Ill., on last Saturday with Stella A. Sam goes to Jaynesville, Wisconsin, this week. Jessie McCorkle has the lung fever and Kentucky Union has a bad leg. It is said that both will be sent back to Sedalia for treatment.

Gene Gibson surprised the trackmen last Saturday by driving Star Hawk a half mile in 1:09. This is the first time this season that he has been sent fast. Star Hawk will be a strong one for the state stallion trotting record this year. Gene is also training a Montana broncho for Dr. Penquite, of Lamonte, that has proved a wonder. This horse was bought for $45 and paced a mile in 2:46 last week.

Stole a Hat.

On the 15th of this month a negro named Edmonson stole a white Stetson hat in Courtney's shoe store, but was detected before he succeeded in carrying off the booty. He was fined $5 and costs before Justice Fisher to-day, and sent to jail. He had an accomplice.

AN INSANE CHILD.

A SAD CASE ON EAST THIRD STREET TO-DAY.

HAS ALL BEEN LEARNED?

Rachael Czarlinsky the Victim of a Strange Hallucination—The Case in Detail.

A peculiar case of insanity has developed at the residence of Mrs. M. Czarlinsky, a widow, who resides at No. 216 East Third street. The woman is the mother of six children, one of whom, Rachel, is a rather pretty child of 14 years. Last Saturday night the neighbors were startled, about 11 o'clock, by screams within the Czarlinsky residence, and investigation revealed that they came from Rachel. She declares that she had been awakened from a sound slumber by a man's hand laid upon her throat, nor could she be convinced to the contrary, notwithstanding the remainder of the family declared that no man had been about the place and that it was all imagination. The child was finally quieted, however, and the neighbors heard nothing further that night.

Last night the same experience was had, the little girl imagining that all manner of evil was about to befall her, and her screams and cries were kept up at intervals during the entire night.

Officer Englebrecht visited the residence, and while he was present the child would remain perfectly quiet, but the instant he would start to leave Rachel would appeal to him to remain, as she feared to be left alone with her mother and sisters.

This morning at 7 o'clock the child jumped from a window on the west side of the house and took refuge in the alley, attired only in the scantiest of night garments. Officers Englebrecht and Green were summoned, and accompanied by a DEMOCRAT reporter visited the house. Officer Green found the child crouching down in the alley, evidently badly frightened, but she consented to accompany him to the house, provided she was not left in the care of her mother and sisters.

The sight presented when a DEMOCRAT reporter entered the residence was far from inviting. On every hand squalor was perceptible, and it was evident that the family were eking out a precarious existence. Little Rachael would talk rationally on every subject, but her aversion to her mother caused considerable comment.

"Don't leave me alone with her," she exclaimed, pointing to her mother, and then, when Officer Englebrecht suggested that her older sister would care for her, she child cried out, "No, nor with her, either! If you knew all, you would not ask me to remain with them."

During all of this time Mrs. Czarlinsky remained within hearing, and it was the belief of the officers that she feared to leave them alone with the child, who might possibly have some revelation to make.

With a view to solving the mystery, if possible, Dr. Muehl was summoned and examined the child to ascertain whether or not she had been the victim of some brute's lust, as was feared. He reported in the negative, but stated that her condition was largely due to improper care and the lack of the right kind of food. It was decided to notify Sheriff Porter to look after the case, and in the event that the child does not improve within a day or two the county court will be called to pass upon the case.

The family is certainly an afflicted one. Mr. Czarlinsky died in an insane asylum, a sister of Mrs. Czarlinsky is now confined in one, as is also an older daughter, and unless little Rachel's condition improves she, too, will have to follow.

A QUIET AFFAIR.

ANARCHISTS ERECT A MONUMENT TO SPIES AND OTHERS.

THE JUDGES DENOUNCED.

The Speeches Much More Moderate Than Those of a Few Years Ago.

CHICAGO, ILL., June 26.—The unveiling of the granite monument to the memory of the five anarchists, Spies, Parsons, Fischer, Lingg and Engel, which took place yesterday afternoon at Waldheim cemetery, was an impressive ceremony. More than 2,500 persons assembled at the burial ground to stamp once more with their approval the sentiment and actions of the men whom the state of Illinois found guilty of treason and put to death.

The crowd was orderly and the few policemen under whose protection the ceremony took place found little to do beyond keeping the sympathizers with anarchy in line as they surged through the gates of the enclosure. It was a crowd of Germans, Poles and Bohemians. Scarcely an American was to be seen, and the exercises were carried on mainly in foreign tongues.

The character of the speeches could not be called incendiary, but rather that of a mild protest against the existing order of government. The ringing oratory of the days when the red flag waved where it pleased was gone, and all the enthusiasm the orators could bring from the auditors was an occasional outburst of applause, not very certain in its sound.

A marked feature of the oratory, however, and one which was most liberally applauded, was a showing of strong animosity toward Judges Geary and Grinnell and other officials of the law who had been prominent in the celebrated trial.

A Birthday Party.

The DEMOCRAT acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to be present to-morrow night at a birthday party at Edina, Mo., in honor of Miss Pedro, daughter of Senator and Mrs. D. A. Ronner. Miss Pedro is a most lovable young lady, as beautiful as she is accomplished, and her friends are limited only by the number of her acquaintances. The DEMOCRAT wishes for the young lady many returns of the happy occasion.

CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.

A Main Street Man and "Specs" the Parties.

Mrs. Maggie Shepherd, better known as "Specs," was arrested this afternoon by Constable Gossage on the charge of adultery with J. G. Dillard, who conducts a restaurant on Main street.

The woman has a husband and family in Fort Scott, while Dillard's family, whom she separated from him, live near Beaman. The two have been living together about a year, and reside on Pettis, between Washington and Lamine. A row, in which Dillard proceeded to demolish furniture and cut up carpets, hastened the arrests.

The women pleaded guilty before Justice Fisher this afternoon, but her fine was not assessed at the time. A warrant was issued for Dillard's arrest upon the same charge.

He was taken before Justice Fisher's court also, where he pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for next Monday. There is an unpleasant discrepancy for him in the fact that the woman has already acknowledged her guilt.

Accompany the Christian Sabbath school excursion to Pertle Springs to-morrow.

No Receiver Yet.

The application of Dr. H. W. Wood and others for a receiver for the Missouri State Fair association, as chronicled exclusively in the SUNDAY MORNING DEMOCRAT, has not yet been acted upon by Judge Field, but it is expected that he will render a decision not later than to-morrow.

Accompany the Christian Sabbath school excursion to Pertle Springs to-morrow.

Bear Dancers Released.

Seven "bear dancers" were released from jail to-day, all colored, viz: Lou Kahrs, Amanda Givens, Maggie Armstrong, Birdie Coleman, Sarah Venable Geo. Price and Hall Alexander, who had served five days each. Lon James, a peace disturber, was released, after having served seven days.

THE RAILROADS.

Ne less than three attempts were made to hold up express trains on the M., K. & T. during the past week.

The Butler Democrat, with a faith and enthusiasm beautiful to behold, talks of the extension of the Jefferson City, Lebanon and Southwestern road as if that "consummation so devoutly to be wished for" were an assured fact. When the Missouri river is bridged at Jefferson City, then we may look for the construction of the "extension," but not before.

It is understood that the Missouri, Kansas and Texas officials propose to make another freight division between Houston and Taylor. It is not known where the end of the division will be, but some seem to think that it will be Smithville, Texas, which is 114 miles from Houston. It is immediately upon the banks of the Colorado and there is an ample supply of water at hand.

A Train Robber Arrested.

One of the men who attempted to hold an M., K. & T. passenger train near Moran last week has been captured. He has been fully identified, the Parsons Sun says, and he gives his name as Will Webb. The company proposes to make an example of him. A strong effort is being made to capture his partner in the crime.

A Former Sedatian.

It is by no means certain that Freight Traffic Manager Dodge, of the Cotton Belt, will accept the chairmanship of the reorganized Southwestern Railway and Steamship association. He has several days allowed him to consider the offer, and has been in consultation with President Fordyce, of the Cotton Belt, and General Manager Doddridge, of the Missouri Pacific. Chairmanships of traffic associations are of uncertain tenure, and even a guarantee does not compensate for a severance of relations with the owners of a great property.

The M., K. & E.

The Rocheport Commercial of last Friday had the following under the caption of "M., K. & E. Notes:"

The linemen who are engaged in setting the telegraph poles and placing the wires will reach Rocheport Sunday. Two wires are being put up, one to be used by the railroad company and the other by the Western Union. Four brackets and insulators are being placed on each pole.

The M., K. & T. telephone line from Parsons, Kansas, to St. Louis is also to run over this system, while the third telegraph wire will be placed later on.

Mr. Val Stone, who has been superintending the construction train and work between Cedar City and the junction, has resigned and taken his old place as conductor. Mr. Stone will likely become conductor on a through line passenger and will have charge of the first passenger train over the road. Our citizens are very anxious for Mr. S. to secure this position, as they like him as a man and have confidence in his knowledge of railroading.

Mrs. Evans and daughter, wife and daughter of Conductor Jas. Evans, are boarding at the City hotel, and have rooms at the residence of Mr. John Williams. Mrs. Breed, proprietress of the City hotel, has been doing a very large business for the past six months. Her hotel seems to be headquarters for railroad men, and from 25 to 100 are on the register each day.

July the 10th will witness the first passenger train over the road. This event will be to Rocheport as was the Star of Bethlehem to the wise men. We are all getting our lungs in readiness to celebrate the occasion with the loudest whooping up ever known in the history of railway enterprises.

To Prevent Accidents.

R. C. Richards, general claim agent of the Northwestern railway, says: "The different states should pass laws prohibiting any more crossings at grade, and any railroad that cannot comply with such a law should not be given a charter. Last, and more important than all else, more care should be taken in the selection and employment of men in engine, train and switching service. The wages paid now are so high that the companies are practically given the chance of selecting their own employees from the cream of the young men of the country. Every man before being engaged in this branch of the service should be prepared to stand a physical examination, especially as to his sight and hearing, and also be required to have a good common school education. The rules of the service should be explained to him so that he will understand that the protection of life and property as well as his future advancement depend on his strict obedience to them. Promotion should be strictly according to merit. This, together with the cultivation of friendly relations, absolute fairness in the treatment of employees, so that none shall be discharged except for cause and the reinstatement of all men who are unjustly discharged will, in my opinion, do more than anything else to prevent injuries to passengers as well as to prevent frauds against the carrier."

Safety Couplers.

An agreement as to the height of the drawbar required for couplers on freight cars has been filed by the American Railway Association with the Interstate Commission in accordance with the coupler bill which passed the last congress and will soon be promulgated by the commission in an official circular. The height of the drawbar specified by the association is 34½ inches, and will be adopted as the standard drawbar on American railways. This is the first important step toward carrying out the coupler bill and equipping all freight cars in the United States with safety couplers, which shall couple the cars by impact without the intervention of a train-hand or the use of the old link and pin. Many local railroaders feel that the provisions of the act can not be put into effect too soon.

The Cough of the Locomotive.

The cough, or puff, of a railway engine is due to the abrupt emission of waste steam up the chimney. When moving slowly the coughs can, of course, be heard following each other quite distinctly, but when speed is put on the puffs come out, one after the other, much more rapidly, and when eighteen coughs a second are produced they can not be separately distinguished by the ear. A locomotive running at the rate of nearly seventy miles an hour gives out twenty puffs of steam every second—that is, ten for each of its two cylinders.

HOME FROM CHICAGO.

County Clerk Mitchum Chats Briefly of His Trip.

Senator Chas. E. Yeater and wife, Will Mackey and wife, and County Clerk Thomas F. Mitchum and Hon. W. D. Steele returned yesterday from Chicago, where they spent several days visiting the World's fair.

In conversation with a DEMOCRAT reporter, Mr. Mitchum stated that the fair was simply wonderful, and no newspaper description that he had yet read had done the subject justice.

"Of course we met a number of former Sedalians," said Mr. Mitchum, "and all appear to be doing well. Tom Cannon, who worked on the Bazaar a short time, now has a splendid position on the Chicago Times and looks better than I ever saw him before. He is a Keeley graduate now, I understand, and to this fact is to be attributed his prosperity."

"I also met Elmer S. Hugen, who has charge of some department of telegraphy on the fair grounds. He, too, is getting along nicely. At the Thomas concert, Friday, I saw Mr. Heard, but did not have an opportunity of speaking to him."

"Chicago is a great city and no mistake. I went out to see the American derby Saturday afternoon, and it seemed to me as if there were a million people present, but when I counted them I found there were only a little the rise of 75,000. The crowd looked like an army, though—in striking contrast was it to the attendance at our home Chautauqua."

"So far as I am aware, there is no foundation for a rumor that I have heard since my return home, to the effect that my friend Steele became a victim to the smiles of a fair charmer in the midway plaisance, who was part and parcel of 'a street scene in Cairo.' Like myself, Mr. Steele came in contact with many beautiful and entertaining women while on the trip, but I feel warranted in saying that he is still heart-free—at least so far as any Chicago maiden, resident or visitor, is concerned."

SUNDAY DROWNING.

ELMER FLEMING LOST HIS LIFE IN FLAT CREEK.

FLETCHER'S CLOSE CALL.

Had It Not Been for a Companion,
Tom Fletcher Would Also Have Lost His Life.

A drowning that was attended by circumstances peculiarly sad occurred on Flat creek, at what is known as the "hole below the dam," between 4 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the victim being Elmer Fleming, the 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fleming, of No. 406 East Seventh street.

A second young man, Thomas, the 17-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Fletcher, also had a narrow escape from death in a like manner—in fact, was virtually dead for a few minutes, but was resuscitated, after faithful attendants had worked with him for more than a quarter of an hour.

Early in the afternoon a party of young men consisting of Tom Fletcher, Elmer Fleming, Frank Monroe, John Menefee, R. H. Walker, Bouldin Bowers, Joy Hoffman, Bob Goodnight, Arthur Kooch, John Neal and others visited the creek for the purpose of bathing. They chose as the spot the hole below the dam, where the water is from fifteen to eighteen feet in depth.

Several of the party were good swimmers, but young Fleming could swim only a few strokes. About 4:30 o'clock Fleming's companions were horrified at a cry from him for help, and an instant later he sank, only to rise again. Johnny Neal, who is employed at Walmsley's, hastened to the drowning boy's assistance and succeeded in getting hold of him, but a "circle current" in the stream prevented the rescue.

Neal worked heroically until he was almost exhausted, and then started for the shore, but in the meantime Arthur Kooch had also started to Fleming's assistance.

Arthur reached the drowning boy's side and held him up for a brief period, but was taken with cramps and found the task difficult of accomplishment—in fact, it was all he could do to save himself.

By this time Tom Fletcher had secured a long pole and was working manfully to save both boys. The pole was not of sufficient strength for the accomplishment of the task, however, and an instant later Fletcher himself was caught in an eddy and sank from sight.

By this time Kooch had been forced, in self-preservation, to abandon Fleming to his fate, and he sank to rise no more in life. When young Fletcher came to the surface his cries for help called Bob Goodnight to his assistance, and he was rescued with great difficulty, more dead than alive.

Of the large number of persons present nearly all were of the opinion that Fletcher had passed beyond hope of resuscitation, but willing hands set to work rubbing and chaffing his limbs, and at the expiration of a few minutes they were rewarded by witnessing the spark of returning life. The heroic treatment was continued several minutes longer, until the young man had passed the danger line.

In the meantime the agonized father had been apprised of the situation and later was informed of the resuscitation. The doctor, in company with Dr. Henry Evans, hastened to the scene, and the young man was removed to his home in the city, where scores of people called during the evening to enquire regarding his condition and to extend congratulations on the narrow escape from death.

On the other hand, the Fleming residence on East Seventh street was a house of mourning. Kind-hearted friends had imparted the sad intelligence as delicately as possible to Mrs. Fleming, but her grief was heart-rending to witness. With the exception of one of the younger children, she was alone, Mr. Fleming, the older son, Bert, and the little daughter, Flossie, being in Parsons. A telegram was forwarded to Mr. Fleming, informing him of his son's death, and a little later a message was received saying that he and the children would leave for Sedalia on the first train.

The search for the body of the drowned boy was not rewarded until about 8 o'clock. A negro whose name is unknown was the first to locate the corpse, he having done so while diving. He was so badly frightened, however, that he could not be induced to approach the spot a second time.

Acting on information furnished by the colored man, W. R. Ditton, engineer at Bowman & Dorn's laundry, began diving for the body, and finally located and brought it to the surface. With the assistance of George Withers and Jack Fessler, the corpse was placed in a boat and taken to shore, and later was brought to Hillis' undertaking rooms in the city.

An inquest was held this morning, at which a verdict of accidental drowning was returned.

Mr. Fleming, his son, Bert, and daughter, Flossie, arrived from Parsons on the "flyer" this morning, only to find the wife and mother utterly prostrated. The death is one of the saddest the DEMOCRAT has ever been called upon to chronicle, and the afflicted family have the sympathy of the entire city. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

Terrific Hail Storm.
A terrific electrical storm, followed by a disastrous fall of hail, visited Montserrat at an early hour Sunday morning. Trainmen assert that the hailstones were larger than walnuts and that not a pane of window glass in the whole village was left unbroken. Growing corn was cut into ribbons and wheat and oats for quite a distance along the line of the Missouri Pacific were badly damaged.

Wants a Gay Time.
The St. Louis Star-Sayings of yesterday contained a small advertisement that may result in a large amount of trouble to the fair one should her name be disclosed to the curious public. The item was in the "want" column, and reads as follows:

PERSONAL—Young lady stenographer from Sedalia, Mo., in the city on a vacation would like to meet good looking young gentleman who knows how to entertain royally. Add D 34, this office.

The identity of the young lady is not known. When she returns to Sedalia it would not be unwise to have a friend take her to one side and tell her that such escapades will bring her lots of woe.

Saddle and light buggy horses are extra strong. Several very select herds of beef breeds of cattle are assured, while the dairy breeds may be stronger than present indications show. The exhibit of Berkshires and Poland china swine will be extra strong, as will be the show of Merino sheep.
